SCHOOL REPORT.

The Board of Education herewith present their Annual report: It has been the intention of the board to secure as good teachers as was possible with the amount of funds that the town feels able to raise, and the results as we look at them have been very satisfactory to us, and we hope, and have reason to believe, that they have also been so, to the rest of the people.

The school in No. 1 was taught by Miss Ella G. Wallace, a very competent and promising young teacher, although she had only entered in her work a short time before she came here, her success proved she was the right person in the right place. We will say in regard to this school that several families who own summer homes and intend to spend their summers here seem to be quite interested in the school as they wish to come earlier and stay later in the season, but have been prevented on account of not wishing to take their children from school. They tried sending them here while they were in town and were well pleased. We think it a good idea to extend every courtesy possible to them, as the associations will prove to the mutual advantage for all.

The school in No. 2 was taught by Miss Maude A. Styles, a teacher who has had good success both in this State and Vermont; and we take pleasure in saying that this school was a success as far as the teacher was concerned, with her good government and education, but, when some of the parents are so indifferent about sending their children to school, regardless of the law, it is then impossible for a school to be a success, no matter how competent the teacher.

We wish to thank parents and children who have aided in the welfare of the school; and hope in the future they all will see the necessity of co-operating with the board and teacher, and by so doing the money raised by the town for schools will not be wasted.
